Intervention by the Adaptation Committee

Kazem Kashefi, AC member

Opportunities for collaboration

- Our ongoing conversations, including during the AC meeting and the AC's NAP Taskforce, have revealed an interest in collaborating in the area of technologies and innovation for adaptation and the broad area of improving access to and exchange of information.
- The AC would also be interested in supporting work on emerging and transformational adaptation technologies; contribute to activities of the TEC and CTCN linked to 'digitalization'; and, of course collaborate on relevant outreach activities.
- The AC has started developing its next flexible workplan, which will cover the years 2025-2027. We will include other constituted bodies in this conversation, which will present an opportunity to integrate collaborative activities with the Technology Mechanism.

Opportunities for collaboration

- We would also like to draw your attention to one of our major activities, which is the establishment of an interactive portal of country profiles.
 - The portal will be a step-change in how adaptation information reported under the Convention and the Paris Agreement is made accessible to the world.
 - It consists of interactive country profiles that showcase the state of adaptation action in each country that is a Party to the UNFCCC. The country profiles provide information on adaptation action undertaken along the adaptation cycle and are based on the latest information available in national reports and communications submitted to the UNFCCC.
 - As a unique, central access point for information, this portal is designed to enhance the collective understanding of adaptation action, facilitate recognition of adaptation efforts, stimulate learning and further action, and contribute to the tracking of adaptation progress globally.
 - The full launch of the portal is planned by the end of this year. A preview is already linked on the Adaptation Committee's landing page.

Opportunities for collaboration

- I would also like to invite you to come to a side event that the AC is organizing during SB 60 in June this year.
 - This event will focus on mandates that the AC has received from the negotiations on the Global Goal on Adaptation in Dubai.
 - This will in particular relate to a mandate regarding technical guidance and training materials to support the implementation of the newly established UAE Framework for Global Climate Resilience.
 - The event will serve as a platform to gather inputs from Parties and other stakeholders on their relevant experiences and contributions, and will be grateful to hear from the CTCN and the TEC.

Next steps

- ❖ The AC will invite the participation of the TEC and CTCN for its 26th meeting, 10-13 September in Bonn.
- ❖ The AC welcomes the collaboration with the TEC and CTCN and is looking forward to further cooperation throughout 2024 and beyond
- ❖ I stand ready to ensure that the activities you engage in this week inform the future work of the AC, and I am fully committed to facilitating the integration of these insights into our strategic planning through the two secretariats.
